COURSE OBJECTIVES

This video lecture series will describe and illustrate the application of Bönninghausen's final and most perfected model of repertory, Therapeutisches Taschenbuch (TT), through our modern English retranslation of The Bönninghausen Repertory (2nd edition, TBR2).

But to understand Bönninghausen properly requires we first understand Hahnemann, who wrote:

"...Baron von Bönninghausen of Münster has studied and grasped my homœopathic system of treatment so thoroughly that as a homœopath he deserves to be fully trusted, and if I should fall ill and be unable to help myself I would not entrust myself to any other physician." [Hæhl [HHL], vol.2, p.483]

It was precisely because Bönninghausen had mastered Hahnemann's teachings that his TT precisely reflects that teaching. For this reason, we will provide a (brief) historical account of Hahnemann's realization of similars, his collection of existing records of substance effects and development of methodical substance trials (provings), all gathered towards the construction of a new, conjectureless (pure) pharmacographic model (Pure MM) to be used in homœopathic practice.

From this grounding we are able to follow the development into Bönninghausen's TT, whilst illustrating the unmatched accuracy of the information gathered by Bönninghausen, and the ease of application of this method in real cases using our specialised TBR2.1 software (developed in Italy).

ABOUT GEORGE DIMITRIADIS

BSc (UNSW), DHom (Syd), FHom (UK), FJPHMA(Jpn)

Consultant Homœopath

George Dimitriadis had his introduction to Homœopathy nearly forty years ago, when a friend showed him his own dispensary of homœopathic medicines and described how 'potentisation' actually made highly diluted substances 'stronger' and more effective. This idea aroused George's curiosity and instead of being dismissive, he felt compelled to learn more about this physical phenomenon. George commenced his own study of Homœopathy (1979-1982), then medical sciences (1983-1986), graduating from the University of New South Wales before taking up full-time homœopathic medicine practice in Sydney (1986). George travelled widely through Europe and India, visiting clinics and teaching institutions in order to observe first-hand their method of learning and of application. He has taught both within Australia and internationally, contributed numerous articles to a number of professional journals, and authored six books for the profession.

George was founding Vice-President and later President, Society of Classical Homœopathy (SCH, 1985-1995), also Chief Editor, Australian Journal of Homœopathic Medicine during its publication life (1992-95), and founder (1993) of the Hahnemann Institute (Sydney) which continues today as a seminar-based graduate teaching and literary research institution, emphasising the need for definition, accuracy of observation, and collection of evidence through close examination of original source literature.

From 1995 George began to focus on the work of Bönninghausen and in particular his Therapeutisches Taschenbuch [TT] (Therapeutic Pocketbook), and spent the next 5 years on his English language TT re-publication project - to correct and revive Bönninghausen's repertorial legacy (with specific reference to original sources), culminating with the publication of The Bönninghausen Repertory (TBR, 2000). The second edition TBR2 (2010) is widely recognised as the most reliable repertory available today.

George's passion for detail and accuracy, immersing himself in all available writings of Hahnemann and his contemporaries has provided a comprehensive familiarity of the development of Homœopathy from its very beginnings, and to a clear understanding of true Homœopathy. He is always keen to pass on this knowledge, teaching others how to learn themselves, by demonstrating the method and value of referring directly to primary sources. Past students have commented that this grounding has given them greater certainty and confidence in practice - a sense of position within this profession.

George and his wife Jacqueline practice at the Hahnemann Homœopathic Medicine Centre, located in the Sydney suburb of Parramatta.

SCHEDULE

1. Introduction - October 16, 2021 from 9 am to 11 am

Homœopathy - birth as a methodical medical pursuit

- definition: identifying a substance or treatment as 'homœopathic'
- characteristics (removing the misconceptions)

2. Pharmacography I - November 13, 2021 from 9 am to 11 am

Substance effects

- toxicological (accidental, deliberate, iatrogenic)
- methodical trials - Hahnemann's provings; prover's union; major works overview. Construction & development (Hahnemann's 1<sup>o</sup> pharmacographies)
- abstraction & grouping (Hahnemann's pharmacographic schema)

3. Pharmacography II - 4 December 2021 from 9 am to 11 am

Indicating certainty (grading in pharmacography)

- 1<sup>o</sup> & 2<sup>o</sup> effects (symptom sequencing)
- biphasic dose response curve; low-dose response curve

4. Repertography I - January 15, 2022 from 9 am to 11 am

History of Repertory (tables & indices)

- Bönninghausen's TFR (SRA + SRN) - indicating certainty (grading within repertory)
- Therapeutisches Taschenbuch [TT]
- the 'complete' symptom triad

5. Repertography II - February 12, 2022 from 9 am to 11 am

Bönninghausen's TT - editions & translations (TPI, TPO, TPH, TPL, TPA)

- The Bönninghausen Repertory, 2nd ed., 2010 [TBR2]
- Symptomarchy ('hierarchy' of symptoms)

6. The Theory of Chronic Disease according to Hahnemann - March 12, 2022 from 9 am to 11 am

An introduction to Hahnemann's theory of chronic disease - how and why Hahnemann conceives and develops this model, and its real-time modern applicability. We dispell the mis-definitions and myths so commonly associated with this model, and provide a couple of case examples to illustrate its use in the clinical setting.

HOW TO SIGN UP

To register, you need to connect to the link http://cemon\_formazione.eventbrite.com, click on Webinar Course - THE BÖNNINGHAUSEN REPERTORY IN PRACTICE - George Dimitriadis, then click again on "TICKETS" and confirm your registration for the seminar by carefully filling out the form. You will be asked to fill in some mandatory fields and in the first screen you will have to specify the quantity under "ticket", by selecting 1. Payment can be made by credit card or paypal.

When the registration and payment procedure is successful, an electronic ticket (pdf format) will be sent to the indicated e-mail address which will certify the registration and the relative invoice. The lessons will be broadcast live through the zoom platform that you can download for FREE from this address: <https://www.zoom.us/download>
